HORSIN AROUND 2015

February 28th & March 1st, 2015
RB Warren Arena
UNL Animal Science Complex
Featuring:

JEFF MELLOTT

Come learn the top techniques of Horsemanship, English Equitation, Trail & more!!

About the presenters:

Jeff Mellott is from Andover, Kansas and is an AQHA Professional Horsemanship, AQHA & NSBA Judge, Past President KQHA, KQHA Volunteer Award 2012, AQHA Trainer of multiple World & Congress Champions. Jeff is one of the industries best teachers and his goal is that each rider enjoys the journey to their own success in and out of the arena.

For the first time in 17 years, Jeff is now able to take outside customers and works with Youth, Amateur & Select riders. He specializes in All-Around horses & exhibitors, especially Horsemanship, Trail, and Western Riding. He is a true master at teaching you how to reach your highest levels in any event.

Amy Alisa Cook, DVM
Dr. Cook grew up in rural Nebraska where she was very involved with the 4-H horse program. She received her Bachelor’s degree from UNL and spent several years working in a variety of equine disciplines prior to returning to vet school. In 2013 she received her DVM from Iowa State University and went on to complete a rigorous one-year hospital internship at Kendall Road Equine Hospital in Elgin, IL, before returning to Nebraska and establishing In Touch Equine Veterinary Services.

Danielle Burns of Omaha, NE prides herself in an honest straightforward approach of working with youth and amateurs of all levels and ages. She believes that it is just as important to teach the client as it is to train the horse. She enjoys her customers as much as they enjoy her. It is important to Danielle that she helps her customers to do 2 things: help them reach goals and enjoy their favorite pastime...Horses. Danielle’s primary focus is performance events, and she specializes in Western Pleasure at AQHA and APHA shows. She is also an AQHA, NSBA and POA judges.

Danielle also enjoys pairing horses and riders together that make great teams. She feels it’s important for her clients to have goals and have a horse that has the ability to take them there no matter how large or small their goals are. She enjoys taking the time to help her clients shop for the right horse.

University of Nebraska
Department of Animal Science
P.O. Box 830908
Lincoln, NE  68583-0908

February 28th & March 1st, 2015
RB Warren Arena
UNL Animal Science Complex
Featuring:

JEFF MELLOTT

Come learn the top techniques of Horsemanship, English Equitation, Trail & more!!

About the presenters:

Jeff Mellott is from Andover, Kansas and is an AQHA Professional Horsemanship, AQHA & NSBA Judge, Past President KQHA, KQHA Volunteer Award 2012, AQHA Trainer of multiple World & Congress Champions. Jeff is one of the industries best teachers and his goal is that each rider enjoys the journey to their own success in and out of the arena.

For the first time in 17 years, Jeff is now able to take outside customers and works with Youth, Amateur & Select riders. He specializes in All-Around horses & exhibitors, especially Horsemanship, Trail, and Western Riding. He is a true master at teaching you how to reach your highest levels in any event.

Amy Alisa Cook, DVM
Dr. Cook grew up in rural Nebraska where she was very involved with the 4-H horse program. She received her Bachelor’s degree from UNL and spent several years working in a variety of equine disciplines prior to returning to vet school. In 2013 she received her DVM from Iowa State University and went on to complete a rigorous one-year hospital internship at Kendall Road Equine Hospital in Elgin, IL, before returning to Nebraska and establishing In Touch Equine Veterinary Services.

Danielle Burns of Omaha, NE prides herself in an honest straightforward approach of working with youth and amateurs of all levels and ages. She believes that it is just as important to teach the client as it is to train the horse. She enjoys her customers as much as they enjoy her. It is important to Danielle that she helps her customers to do 2 things: help them reach goals and enjoy their favorite pastime...Horses. Danielle’s primary focus is performance events, and she specializes in Western Pleasure at AQHA and APHA shows. She is also an AQHA, NSBA and POA judges.

Danielle also enjoys pairing horses and riders together that make great teams. She feels it’s important for her clients to have goals and have a horse that has the ability to take them there no matter how large or small their goals are. She enjoys taking the time to help her clients shop for the right horse.
Horsin Around 2015

Saturday - February 28, 2015

9:00  Developing the Horsemanship horse—Jeff Mellott

10:30  Break

10:45  Improving the Horsemanship rider—Jeff Mellott

12:00  Lunch— On your own

1:00  Evaluating your potential horse purchase— A vet’s perspective—Dr. Amy Cook

2:00  Executing the Horsemanship pattern and the Judge’s point of view—Jeff Mellott

3:30  Getting started with Trail—Jeff Mellott

5:00  See you tomorrow!!

Sunday - March 1, 2015

9:00  Advancing your Trail horse—Jeff Mellott

10:15  Break

11:00  So you want to buy a horse?—Danielle Burns

12:00  Lunch— On your own

1:00  Improving the English Equitation horse and rider team—Jeff Mellott

2:30  Break

2:45  English Equitation– Tackling patterns—Jeff Mellott

4:30  Conclude

Registration

Name

___________________________________________
Complete Address

___________________________________________
___________________________________________
___________________________________________
Phone No.__________________________________
Email _____________________________________
Check One:  [ ] Adult (Over 18) ________
[ ] Youth (18 & Under) ________

Number Attending___________________________
Amount Enclosed ____________________________

NOTE: The 2015 conference will be limited to the first 450 paid registrations.

Preregistration Deadline— February 20th, 2015

No phone-in registrations accepted. Seating will be assigned by section on a first-come, first-served basis.

Preregistration:

[ ] Adult— $30 both days or $20/day
Sat _______  Sun _______

[ ] Youth — $20 both days or $15/day
Sat _______  Sun _______

Registration at door: (If available)

[ ] Adult — $40 both days or $25/day

[ ] Youth — $30 both days or $20/day

Sponsored by University of Nebraska Extension

Make check payable to: University of Nebraska and send to: Dr. Kathy Anderson, C-204 Animal Science, UNL, Lincoln, NE 68583-0908

Phone: (402) 472-6414

NO REFUNDS ISSUED